Nancy Schimmel © 2014

The hon - ey bee flies high, high, The bum - ble - bee flies low, Car - ry - ing the pol - len grains that make the flo - wers grow. Some flo - wers put their pol - len out there in plain sight, To - ma - to flo - wers keep their pow - der wrapped up pre - tty tight. Buzz and bum - ble, bzz, bzz, buzz and shake shake shake it out.

The bumble finds the blossom
And says, "Remember this!"
And with her little mandibles
She gives the bloom a kiss

She hangs on to the flower
And gives a bumble shout
Her buzzing shakes the pollen box
And the pollen tumbles out.

Chorus

A honeybee can't do it,
Her buzz is not as strong
Listen to the bumble bee
You can hear her working song.

The honeybee's in clover
Her honey is so sweet
But when we eat tomato sauce
That's the bumble's treat.

Chorus

The sailor has his chantey
When he works upon the sea
The farmer has her working song
And so does the bumble bee
